Fighting Traffic Tickets for Texas Legal Members

Abel Guevara knew his wife, Sonia, couldn't be guilty of speeding. Not only does she drive slowly, but the circumstances of the ticket sounded suspicious: on her way to pick up her granddaughter from school, Sonia was stopped at a red light, waiting for the left turn signal to turn green.

Once the light changed and she turned the corner, lights flashed in her rear-view mirror, and an officer told her she was getting a ticket for speeding in a school zone. How could she have been speeding when she barely turned the corner?

The Guevaras, Texas Legal members, chose attorney Ashton Adair to help fight their traffic ticket and got it dismissed. To read the entire story, take a look at How This Family Fought a Traffic Ticket With Texas Legal and Won.
