Estate Planning: Elder Law and Trusts

Thursday, Sept 16th 3:00 p.m.

Planning for your future involves more than just saving for retirement. As we grow older the importance of creating a detailed trust is intensified. We find ourselves making verbal plans with loved ones, but might not have those plans written out. Join us for a live webinar featuring Texas Legal network attorney Y. Jack Fan as he discusses issues relating to elder law and estate planning. Jack Fan is a bi-lingual attorney whose professional experience includes serving on the Finance, Audit, and Budgeting Committee for Legal Aid of Northwest Texas, serves as the Chair of the Estate Planning and Probate Section for Collin County Bar Association, and participates in many prodigious speaking engagements.

Estate Planning: Make Your Wishes Known

Tuesday, Sept 28th 3:00 p.m.

Caring for your children is a life-long commitment, but what happens when you are no longer here to look after them? The best way to ensure your family is cared for is by creating an estate plan with a licensed attorney. Join us for a live webinar featuring Texas Legal network attorney Jaclyn Roberson of Roberson Duran Law, PLLC, as she discusses estate planning from a family law perspective. Jaclyn Roberson's extensive experience includes previous work at the San Antonio Community Law Center, Texas Department of Family and Protective Services, and founding The Law Office of Jaclyn Y. Roberson, PLLC in March of 2006.

The Basics of Wills and Living Trusts

Preparing for the distribution of your estate (assets you own at the time of your death) can be a very stressful experience. After all, with so many important decisions to make, no one wants to make the wrong one. One of the most common dilemmas is whether to have a will or a living trust—or both. Texas Legal Members are able to create and/or update their estate plans once a plan year. Knowing the fundamentals and basics of wills and living trusts will help you make the right decision.
