

August is Make-A-Will Month!

If you are an adult, it's essential to have a will. Many people believe wills and estate planning are only for the wealthy, but everyone and their loved ones can benefit from having a will.

Why younger generations need to make a will

Are you a part of the Gen Z or Millennial generations? Or do you know someone who is? Younger generations typically only create wills and plan their estates once they are older, but there are many reasons to start the process in your 20s.

Our latest blog post discusses the importance of considering a will, regardless of background, age, or wealth.

How Texas Legal can help after the storm

Contractors

You can have a lawyer review contracts before signing and assist with consumer protection claims if the contractor doesn't fulfill their agreement.

Mortgage & Foreclosure Counseling

Getting help from an attorney can make the difference between keeping your home and losing it if you are facing foreclosure or struggling to pay your mortgage.

Landlord-Tenant Issues

An attorney can assist renters in ensuring that repairs are completed correctly and in a timely manner, as well as in protecting their rights.

Real Estate Law

If you were in the midst of buying or selling your house when the storm hit, storm damage may create extra complications for completing the process.

Insurance Claims

Texans dealing with insurance can get help from an attorney to understand what the insurance company should pay and provide.

Government Benefits

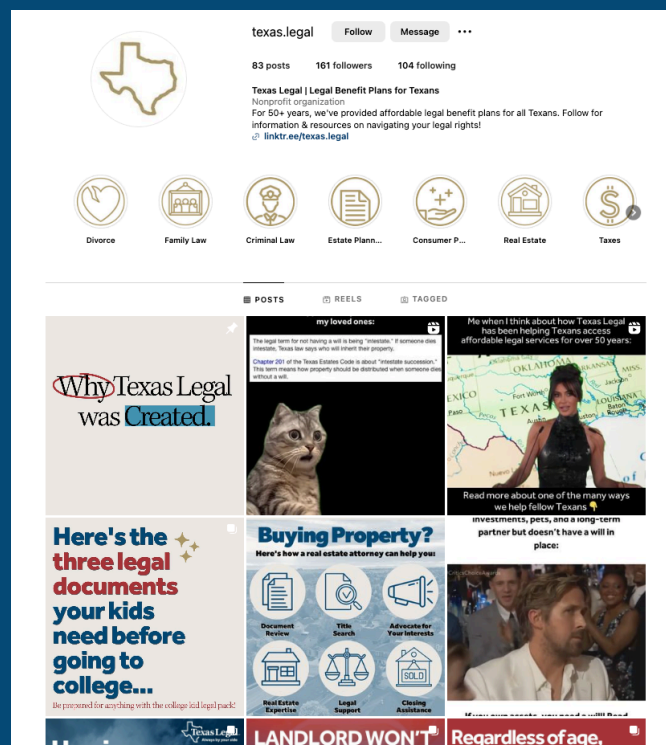

If your property was not covered by insurance, you may be eligible for FEMA assistance based on your location. Get legal help to determine eligibility and apply.
